10.6 Graveyards

CRUIKSHANK, J., 1941. Logan’s Collections [important nineteenth-century record of funeral monuments in and around Aberdeen]. Aberdeen: Spalding Club.

CUTMORE, C., 1996. Memorial stones in the kirkyard at Gowan: a study of the early modern monuments and the interplay with the re-used early medieval “Gowan Stones”. MA edn. Department of Archaeology, University of Glasgow.

EDINBURGH WORLD HERITAGE, New heritage trails for Edinburgh’s historic graveyards. Available at http://www.ewht.org.uk/news/504/102/New-%2AD%20%20heritage-%C2%AD%E2%80%90trails-%C2%AD%E2%80%90for-%C2%AD%E2%80%90Edinburgh-%C2%AD%E2%80%90s-%C2%AD%E2%80%90historic-%C2%AD%E2%80%90graveyards [Dec/6, 2015].

HISTORIC ENVIRONMENT SCOTLAND, Explore the Collections. Available at http://collections.historic-scotland.gov.uk/simpleSearch.jsp.
MONTEITH, R., 1704. An Theater of Mortality: or, the Illustrious Inscriptions Extant upon the Several Monuments .. within the Gray-Friars church-yard .. Edinburgh: Heirs and Successors of Andrew Anderson.

THOMSON, G., 2007. We’re all doomed! ... to an eternity of gravestones with spelling errors. DGBlife, 3, pp. 30–33.

